

Author magazine online is dedicated to writing, publishing and the creative process in general. Every month you will find video interviews with best-selling and exciting first-time authors, and book reviews, both fiction and non-fiction.

We also feature articles by new and established writers. Focusing less on craft and more on heart, these essays deal with the daily struggles and inspirations of writing.

We are teamed with The Pacific Northwest Writer's Association, one of the longest running writer organizations in the nation.

Our magazine reaches a highly literate audience in the thousands each month.
